Presentation of key findings from KMH Final External Evaluation

Présentation des principales conclusions de l'évaluation externe finale du KMH

Focus of the evaluation

The evaluation has specifically considered whether the KMH:

1. Remains relevant in the current Return and Reintegration landscape
2. Contributed to more harmonized Return and Reintegration actions
3. Fostered a global Community of Practice on Return and Reintegration

1. Relevance in the current context

- Sustainable reintegration remains an in-development domain of intervention
- Still needed support to concerned international and local stakeholders in the EU partner countries
- Persisting need to look beyond the delivery of assistance to returning migrants and support reintegration as part of
  - the local institutional and support system
  - long-term development efforts

2. Contributions to harmonization of actions

- Generative collaboration with IOM Field Offices
  - Field/HQs dialogue to adapt tools
  - Respond to field needs
- Support to stakeholders outside IOM
  - Outreach to country stakeholders through IOM Field Offices
- Feeding a sound learning process
  - Partnerships with academia and research centers
  - Field data feeding knowledge products
  - Aiming to actionable inputs

3. Feeding a Community of Practice

- Positioning of KMH Return and Reintegration Platform as the key global reference on existing practices and evidence-based knowledge products
- Return and Reintegration Platform regularly consulted by an increasing number of stakeholders (IOs, EU, in the partner countries)
- Excellent management of contacts and dissemination capacity
- Increasing number of participants in webinars, events, … promoted and organized through the Platform
- General inclination of participants to remain engaged and subscribe to more opportunities
